
Troops invade Nablus, arrest five residents

(Tuesday, 09 May 2006) - Contributed by Saed N. Bannoura

Tuesday at dawn, Israeli soldiers invaded the West Bank city of Nablus, and its Askar refugee camp, conducted military searches of homes and arrested five residents.

The Palestinian News Agency, Wafa, reported that soldiers supported by more than twenty armored vehicles invaded several neighborhoods in Nablus and Askar refugee camp and arrested five residents identified as Imad Al Aghbar, 21, Ahmad Abu Sa'da, Abdul-Raziq Al Ratroot, 21, Ahid Al Deery, 30, and Ahmad Al Sarras, 18.

The arrestees were taken to an unknown destination.